The intention for using social media for A Sustainable Mind is for marketing, education, advocacy, thought leadership, and providing content in a technologically changing field. We want to do this while making clients aware of the risks and benefits of engagement on social media where medical professionals are present. A medical mental health professional social media page is not psychotherapy, a replacement for a therapeutic relationship, or substitute for mental health and medical care. A social media presence as a mental health professional is not seeking an endorsement, request, or rating from past or current clients. No social media posts should be considered professional advice. The information contained in posts is general information for educational purposes only. Past and current clients risk breaching their privacy and confidentiality by following, liking, re-posting, commenting, and engaging on social media platforms with mental health providers. "Direct Messaging" is another risk to your privacy. Remember commenting and messaging between sessions is not a confidential or encouraged means of communication. Please schedule an official telemedicine appointment to discuss, explore, and ask any treatment related questions or concerns. Social media is not an appropriate medium for sharing therapeutic concerns, questions, comments, or reaching out in crisis to your counselor. Comments and DM's are monitored by staff and are not confidential. Users are advised to use social media platforms wisely and communicate / engage upon them with due care and caution in regard to their own privacy and personal details. This website, nor its owners, will ever ask for personal or sensitive information through social media platforms and encourage users wishing to discuss sensitive details to contact them through primary communication channels such as by phone or email. If you or your child are suicidal. Call 911, go to your local emergency room or call the national crisis hotline at 1-800-273-8255. Social media platforms are not a way to receive emergency care.

Your privacy is very important to us, which is why we've created a separate Privacy Policy in order to explain in detail how we collect, manage, process, secure, and store your private information. Our privacy policy is included under the scope of this User Agreement. To read our Privacy Policy please click on the link provided below.

Due to the nature of mental health treatment, estimating costs can be incredibly challenging for myriad reasons. However, most short-term, solution-focused treatments last for around 15 sessions, so this multiplied by your session rates above could lead you to a good faith estimate on the minimum a successful round of treatment might cost you out of pocket.
